

Batteries Expert⁺

Introduction Document
for Future Franchisee

Looking for a Batteries Expert⁺ franchise?

Who are the partners that we look for?

Owning a Batteries Expert franchise is more than about the money. It is about a long term partnership. We need more than people to open a store and sell a product. We are looking for ambassadors to our brand. We are searching for specific personalities that allow us to build a business relationship successfully.

Caution : Entrepreneurs wanted!

Most franchises don't look for entrepreneurs. They look for people willing to fit into a « mold ». We, on the other hand, thrive with innovative entrepreneurial type individuals among our team.

We need entrepreneurs that desire success within an organization as part of a team. As the « coach » of the team, we are willing to provide any needed assistance and support through the phases of growth that you will live through. From opening your store to reaching a degree of autonomy, to the desire and readiness for a second, or, as we are currently seeing in our network, even a third location, we need driven individuals looking to succeed.

There are of course standards, boundaries and limits in any franchise system that must be adhered to in order to have an identical concept in all franchise locations. Do not hesitate with any questions regarding said limits. They must be clear in your mind before you choose to join our team.

Communication is key

As mind readers aren't professionals available for hire, we created many tools for communication such as annual meetings, consulting counsels that meet every trimester, monthly visits from our network coordinator, customer service reps available daily and even an internal portal for all our franchises available 24/7.

In return, we need partners willing to let us know what they need. What are the challenges met on a daily basis and how we can help. What successes they have accomplished and how?

Without efficient communication our internal team cannot pass the ball to permit all our franchisees to score. It is an essential part of our business relationship that we will be looking at from the beginning of the selection process.

Batteries Expert profile

Essential to us

Enthusiasm for our brand is essential to ensure your success as a franchisee. We will be looking for people with not only enthusiasm for our concept but for the future of the network as a whole. This means homework for both of us.

We need you to be aware of your local market, be it competition or specific knowledge of the demographics in your area. We can and certainly do help with this. Nevertheless, you are the person ultimately responsible for the success of your franchise.

We will plan together on how best to raise market awareness of your new franchise amongst potential customers, as well as analyzing with you your goals and ideas.

Prerequisites

For launching any business there are of course some prerequisites which cannot be avoided. Below is a listing of certain qualities and assets essential for our future franchisees.

- Motivation
- Tenacity
- Strong support structure
- Willingness to learn
- Maturity (Must be an innovative but also a realist)
- Financially sound

Selection process

As part of our selection process we require that the franchisee profile form be filled and returned to us. The form is available online at www.batteriesexpert.com or directly from a network coordinator as part of our franchise information package.

We are Batteries Expert

Who are we?

Batteries Expert is a family based operation that started in 1964 creating a network of experts across Quebec and recently expanding into Ontario. During those years, we have evolved from a home based business in the family garage to a banner with 71 distribution locations across the province of Quebec and 10 locations in Ontario. We are now a full-fledged franchise with the reputation for being ready to do what is necessary in order to ensure the longevity of our success.

What is a Batteries Expert Franchise?

Our franchisees are positioned in the market to be « THE » location for all battery types, from the hearing aid battery to the lawn tractor battery, passing through car batteries, AGM, button cells and more. Our current expertise goes even as far as offering the opportunity to rebuild certain batteries that are not readily available as replacements in the market place.

As our market goes green, we are also the reference in off-grid alternative energy needs, from the solar panels, regulators and chargers to 12 volts water pumps, 12 volts refrigerators, propane instant water heaters and everything else in between.

Our team, your support

Through constant effort and adaptability, we have created innovative communication channels to stay close to our franchisees and the consumer. We keep in mind the difference between the various types of customers in the constantly evolving market. Either through internet, print ads or everything else in between there is a dedicated team willing and able to make the most of the local market chosen as the location of a franchise.

Batteries Expert understands the need for professionals in marketing, merchandising, training, technical support and customer service in order to offer our franchisees the support they need to stay ahead of the market.

Our innovative and motivated team is constantly improving our market positioning with the help of our franchises to ensure the next 50 years are even better than the first 50.

Start-up requirements

Finding a retail location is essential. As the franchise concept is based on the retail customer it is expected to be in a moderate to high traffic area.

Locations in industrial parks and out of town limits are not conducive to a retail type of business and will be considered accordingly.

In order to meet the demands of an evolving market, BE Franchise offers the concept of Batteries Expert⁺ a store that offers the complete experience:

- Complete BE concept / including workshop
- B2C Commercial area
- A location that is a minimum of 2,500 square foot (1,700 square feet in store, 800 square feet for workshop/facilities, for charge areas and overstock)
- Sales Customer Service and Installation
- Knowledge of sales and customer service techniques
- High level of technical knowledge
- High level of skills and technical knowledge for installations (auto, truck, RV, boat, trailer, and others)
- B2B program available in partnership with TCED
- Client-target: Consumer B2C
- KPI (Key Performance Indicators) = 100%
- Independent Franchise (except under the authority of BE Franchise INC.)
- Full range
